It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT, OF THE RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.

To His Excellency,

HON. THOMAS G. JONES,

Governor of Alabama.

SIR:—We submit our Thirteenth Annual Report in compliance with the provisions of Section 1142 of the Civil Code of Alabama. The annual returns of the railroad companies were late in reaching us this year, and this has caused delay in transmitting our annual report.

The tables we have embraced in this report were prepared with great care, and are based upon facts gathered from the annual returns of the railroad companies. These statistical exhibits are interesting to the general reader, and are especially so to those who are directly interested or concerned in railway operation.

The new mileage reported herein as constructed since June 30th, 1892, is small in comparison with that reported for several years past. The past year has been an eventful one in many respects—depressions bordering on paralysis in business have overtaken, in a general way, the commercial, agricultural, and industrial interests of the State, resulting almost in a complete stagnation of business. This condition has not been local from local causes, but has been common all over the country.

The railways are the great highways of travel and traffic and are first to catch the throbs of active business prosperity, coming with rushing trains and heavy traffic; likewise they are first to feel the loss of revenue from the coming of hard times. Railroad construction has practically been suspended, and it is not yet to be seen when it will be resumed with confidence. The business conditions of Europe and America have been much disturbed and unsettled since 1890, and in this country the agitations have been followed by depressing influences which still oppress us and prevent development.

In view of the hard times and the heavy burdens they have imposed upon the people and the railroad corporations, we have made no more demands for the expenditure of money by the railroad companies, than have been required by the exigencies of the times. Complaints from shippers and from local points against railway accommodations and rates have been much less frequent than heretofore, and we have observed with pleasure a very general and growing disposition to be patient and forbearing during the continuance of the many burdens imposed upon the travel and traffic of the country, by the abnormal business conditions with which we are surrounded. It is to be hoped that the storm clouds which overhang us will soon pass away and that a brighter future will soon come giving new health, strength, and life to all the business interests of our State.

RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION.

During the year ending June 30th, 1893, there were constructed the following additional miles of railroad within this State :

Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway (T. & C. Division).....	15.92
Savannah, Americus & Montgomery Railway.....	81.57
Total.....	97.49

There was an increase in the number of miles by re-measurement and other causes of 3.06 miles, which is shown in our table as new mileage and reported by the following named companies :

New Orleans, Mobile & Texas Railway.....	.65
Savannah & Western Railway.....	1.07

South & North Alabama Railroad.....	.30
Western Railway of Alabama.....	1.04
Total.....	3.06

There was a decrease by remeasurement and other causes of 34.06 miles, which was reported by the following named companies :

Alabama Great Southern Railroad.....	.45
Birmingham Mineral Railroad.....	22.96
Georgia Pacific Railway.....	8.94
Mobile & Girard Railroad.....	1.66
Montgomery & Eufaula Railroad.....	.05
Total.....	34.06

Twenty-two thirty-two miles of the deduction, as shown on the Birmingham Mineral Railroad, and taken from the mileage of last year given in our report, is occasioned by the fact that this number of miles of road is not owned by this company, but is operated under a lease, or traffic arrangement, and the mileage has been accredited to the other companies in the State owning the same, viz :

Cahaba Coal Mining Company's Railway.....	7.91
East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Railway (Brierfield B. & B. Division).....	14.41
Total.....	22.32

Thus making a deduction of only .64 of a mile on the Birmingham Mineral Railroad. The decrease in mileage shown on the Georgia Pacific Railway occurs in the branch lines and arises by the placing of the Coalburg loop 6.41 miles in the main line, but now shown as double track, and the Powell Avenue track 2.11 miles being placed in the sidings, making an actual deduction of .42 of a mile by remeasurement on this road, and a total decrease on all the roads in the State by remeasurement and other causes of 2.50 miles.

ANNUAL RETURNS OF RAILROAD COMPANIES.

We have not demanded returns of the following named companies, but we give their mileage as ascertained.

Cahaba Coal Mining Company's Railroad.....	9.00
Fort Payne & Eastern Railway.....	11.25
Gadsden & Attalla Union Railway.....	6.00
Kymulga & Coosa River Railroad.....	10.00
Mary Lee Coal & Iron Railway Co.....	7.25
The Tennessee Coal & Iron Railway Co.....	30.00
Tennessee River, Ashville & Coosa Railway.....	4.00
Total.....	77.50

Most of these railroads are exclusively used for either mining or saw-mill purposes, and do but little if any public business, with the exception of the Tennessee River, Ashville & Coosa Railroad. The Cahaba Coal Mining Company has leased to the Alabama Great Southern Railroad Company that part of its road between Woodstock and Blocton 8.10 miles, and has also entered into a like arrangement with the Birmingham Mineral Railroad Company between Blocton Junction and Blocton 7.91 miles. The operations of this mileage by these two different companies are shown in their returns.

We stated in our last report that returns would be required of the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery Railway Company, which was excused last year because of the fact that its line was not opened to the public for traffic until only a few days before the close of the fiscal year.

We have this year required the usual form return from this company, and demanded a report of the Seaboard Railway Company of Alabama, but excused the Escambia Railway Company from reporting, on the written assurances from its Secretary and Treasurer that his road had not been in operation for some time, was now idle, and at present it was impossible for him to foresee when it could resume business. We will require reports of the Tennessee River, Ashville & Coosa Railroad Company in the future.

MILEAGE OF RAILROADS.

The total length of railroads belonging to the corporations making returns to this Board is 3,433.03 miles of main line and branches with 16.41 miles of double track. Last year there were 3,366.46 miles of main line and branches with 10 miles of double track, showing an increase of 66.57 miles of main line and branches and 6.41 miles of double track for the year ending June 30th, 1893.

The total length of sidings is 537.25 against 476.81 miles of last year, showing an increase of 60.44 miles.

RECAPITULATION.

Mileage shown in annual returns.....	3,433.03
Mileage of double track.....	16.41
Mileage of companies not required to report.....	77.50
Mileage of companies excused from reporting.....	27.00
Mileage of companies failing to report.....	29.00
Mileage of sidings.....	537.25
Total.....	4,120.19

We are pleased to find that the 411.60 miles of old iron rails reported last year are gradually disappearing, and are being replaced by steel rails of heavier weight. There are now reported 352.59 miles in iron rails in the State, the greater part of which is on the branch lines over which the traffic is very light.

RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION AND VALUATION IN THE STATE.

In 1873 there were in Alabama 1,721 miles of main line and branches, which were valued at $22,445,383.91, and having an average value of $13,043.22 per mile. There were 71 miles of sidings with a valuation of 522,418.15, an average value of $7,358.00 per mile. The valuation of the rolling stock was $2,440,308.00, making a total valuation of all the railroad property in the State for that year $25,408,110.76.

In 1883 there were 1,874.55 miles of main line and branches valued at $16,735,203.39, with an average value of $8,927.52 per mile. There were 135.69 miles of sidings valued at $385,578.94, an average value of $2,915.40 per mile. The rolling stock was valued at $1,941,390.73, giving a total valuation for that year of $19,062,173.06. For this period of ten years there were constructed 153.55 miles of main line and branches, being an average of 15.35 of new miles built each year. The sidings show an increase of 64.69 miles, an average of 6.47 miles per year. There was a decided decrease in the valuations.

In 1893 there were 3,436 miles of main line and branches with a valuation of $40,266,454.66, an average value of $14,629.34 per mile. There were 568.26 miles of sidings valued at $2,165,464.88, an average value of $3,828.44 per mile. The rolling stock was fixed at $5,527,199.87, making a total valuation for this year of $47,959,119.41. The increase for this decade being 1,561.45 miles of main line and branches, an average of 156.14 miles per year. There was an increase of 432.57 miles of sidings, an average of 43.26 miles per year, and an increase of $28,896,946.35 in valuation. It will be seen that the mileage nearly doubles within the last ten years, and has more than doubled for the twenty years. The average valuation per mile for 1893 has increased considerably over that of 1883, yet it is but little in excess on the main line and branches of the year 1873, and has greatly decreased from the average on the sidings for that year.

The above statistics are based on the figures fixed by the State Board of Assessors of Railroad Property for Taxation. The difference in the mileage as shown by the two departments, arises out of the fact that some of the mileage returned to the Railroad Commissioners under the heading of "Branch Lines" is allowed as sidings by the Assessment Board, based on the showings made to it by the companies, and that some of the mining and logging roads was not given in for assessment.

It is manifest from this statistical exhibit, that the railroad properties of the State have, for the past ten years, been an immense factor in its wealth producing power, giving new properties as the subjects of taxation for revenue, while affording our people increased facilities for travel and for enlarging our growing industrial and agricultural development. It is gratifying to us that these results have been largely attained with so little friction, since the State assumed the right of regulation and supervision. They tend to show that our railway legislation has furnished no impediment to railroad construction, nor impaired the confidence of capitalists in the integrity of our laws and the safety of their investments.

ACCIDENTS TO PERSONS.

During the year ending June 30th, 1893, there were killed 79 and 863 injured, making a total of 942 persons suffering death and injury by accidents on the railroads within this State. Of this number there were 3 passengers killed and 43 injured, Employees, 33 killed and 718 injured, and 43 others killed and 102 injured. For the year preceeding there were 112 killed and 952 injured, making a total of 1064 accidents to persons. Of this number there were no passengers killed but 25 were injured. There were 60 employees killed, and 855 injured, and the accidents to others amounted to 52 killed and 72 injured.

The summary would show ; for the year 1893 :

Passengers,	Employees,	Others,	Total,
killed, injured,	killed, injured,	killed, injured,	killed, injured.
3 43	33 718	43 102	79 863

For the year 1892 :

0 - 25	60 855	52 72	112 855
------------------	---------------	--------------	----------------

Owing to the imperfect returns made by the Central Railroad and Banking Company of Georgia, which was explained in our last report, the accidents occurring on its lines within this State were not reported for the year 1892, and the total killed and injured would be somewhat increased for that year, if such information had been obtained.

We think it but fair to state that the number of accidents as shown under the heading of "Others" in the year 1892, all, except one of the killed and six of the injured, were trespassers, either on the companies' trains or on their rights of way ; and for the year 1893, there can be charged under this heading to the same cause, 42 of the number killed and 75 of the injured. It is generally known among those who have given this particular class of accidents any consideration, that those who suffer most from them are tramps stealing rides on the trucks and other parts of the trains from one point to another, and that it is impossible to prevent it to any great extent, notwithstanding the care and dilligence of the train crew, so long as men will travel in this careless and dangerous manner. It is also true that such accidents occur, resulting from persons being run down by the trains while using the road beds of the railways as public highways. These are comparatively few in number and not always mendicants, but thoughtless persons trespassing, who believe no harm will overtake them as they intend getting out of the way when the train is heard approaching.

Thirteen out of the twenty-eight remaining accidents occurring to "Others" were at highway crossings, some of which might possibly have been prevented, even without the aid of one of the numerous devices that are in use in many of the States for the protection of human life, at the graded dirt road crossings.

The number of passengers carried by all the railroads in this State affording revenue to the companies, were 3,192,818, and as there were 3 passengers killed, the average would be one death to every 1,064,273, and the injured would be one to every 74,252 persons transported on the trains.

The number of passenger train miles were 6,131,407 and and that of the mixed trains were 464,569, giving a train mileage in the State of 6,595,976, over which passengers were carried, and gives an average of one passenger killed for every 2,198,659, and one injured for every 153,394 miles travelled.

The number of employees reported as actively connected with the train service in the State are 2,563, and those killed amounted to 33, and those injured reached 718, making an average of one killed to every 77.63, and one injured to every 3.56 persons employed in this capacity. The number of train miles in the State were 16,272,747, giving an average of one employee killed to every 493.113, and one injured to every 22,664 train miles. The mileage of construction trains is omitted in the above.

This affords the following ratio of accidents for the year ending June 30th, 1893, in the State of Alabama.

TO PASSENGERS,

1 killed to every 1,064,273 carried, and to every 2,198,659 miles travelled.

1 injured to every 74,252 carried, and to every 153,394 miles travelled.

TO EMPLOYEES.

1 killed to every 77.63 in train service, and to every 493, 113 miles run.

1 injured to every 3.56 in train service, and to every 22, 664 miles run.

The total number of persons employed in the State by the railroad companies are 13,378, but in computing the above, only those employees brought into contact with the moving trains have been used, viz : enginemen, firemen, conductors, other trainmen, switchmen, flagmen and watchmen, the remaining number of employees, with the exception of the general officers, are not on or about the trains when in motion.

The accidents to persons involving loss of life and injury to limbs, is a subject which has for a long time occupied the anxious attention of railway managers, and the general public of the entire country. The different state railway commissions have often dealt with it in their annual reports. Petitions have been sent in volumes to Congress praying for legislation on the subject, which has resulted in the passage by Congress of the following act, which is embraced herein on account of its importance.

“An Act to promote the safety of employees and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers engaged in inter-state commerce to equip their cars with automatic couplers, and continuous brakes, and their locomotives with driving wheel brakes, and for other purposes.

“Be it enacted by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the first day of January, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, it shall be unlawful for any common carrier engaged in inter-state commerce by railroad, to use on its line any locomotive engine in moving inter-state traffic not equipped with a power driving wheel brake, and appliances for operating the train brake system, or to run any train in such traffic after said date, that has not a sufficient number of cars in it so equipped with power or train brakes that the engineer on the locomotive drawing such train can control its speed without requiring brakemen to use the common hand brake for that purpose.

Section 2. That on and after the first day of January, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, it shall be unlawful for any such common carrier to haul or permit to be hauled, or used on its lines, any car used in moving inter-state traffic not equipped with couplers coupling automatically by impact, and which can be uncoupled without the necessity of men going between the cars.

Section 3. That when any person, firm, or company, or corporation engaged in inter-state commerce by railroad, shall have equipped a sufficient number of its cars so as to comply with the provisions of section one of this act, it may lawfully refuse to receive from any connecting lines of road or shippers of any cars not equipped sufficiently, in accordance with the first section of this act, with such power or train brakes as will work and readily interchange with the brakes in use on its own cars as required by this act.

Section 4. That from and after the first day of July, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, until otherwise ordered by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, it shall be unlawful for any railroad company to use any cars in inter-state commerce that is not provided with secure grab irons or handholds in the ends and sides of each car for greater security to men in coupling and uncoupling cars.

Section 5. That within ninety days from the passage of this act the American Railway Association is authorized hereby to designate to the Inter-State Commerce Commission the standard height of drawbars for freight cars, measured perpendicular from the level of the tops of the rails to the centers of the drawbars, for each of the several gauges of railroads in use in the United States, and shall fix a maximum variation from such standard height to be allowed between the drawbars of empty and loaded cars. Upon their determination being certified to the Inter-State Commerce Commission, said Commission shall at once give notice of the standard fixed upon to all the common carriers, owners, or lessees engaged in inter-state commerce in the United States by such means as the Commission may deem proper. But should said Association fail to determine a standard as above provided, it shall be the duty of the Inter-State Commission to do so, before July first, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, and immediately give notice thereof as aforesaid. And after July first, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, no cars either loaded or unloaded shall be used in interstate traffic which do not comply with the standard above provided for.

Section 6. That any such common carrier using any locomotive, engine, running any train, or hauling or permitting to be hauled, or used on its line any car in violation of any of the provisions of this act, shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for each and every such violation, to be recovered in a suit or suits in the district court of the United States having jurisdiction in the locality where such violation shall have been committed, and it shall be the duty of such district attorney to bring such suits upon duly verified information being lodged with him of such violation having occurred. And it shall be the duty of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to lodge with the proper district attorneys information of any such violations as may come to its knowledge; Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall apply to trains composed of four wheel cars or to locomotives used in hauling such trains.

Section 7. That the Inter-State Commerce Commission may from time to time, upon full hearing and for good cause, extend the period within which any common carrier shall comply with the provisions of this act.

Section 8. That any employee of any such common carrier who may be injured by any locomotive, car, or train in use, contrary to the provisions of this act, shall not be deemed thereby to have assumed the risk thereby occasioned, although continuing in the employment of such carrier after the unlawful use of such locomotive, car, or train, had been brought to his knowledge."

Approved, March 2, 1893.

REDUCTIONS MADE BY RAILROAD COMPANIES.

When the depression commenced to make itself felt throughout the country it became necessary for the railroad companies, whose traffic had for this reason been greatly diminished, to decrease their expense in every possible way without severe detriment to the public and to themselves, in order to earn their running expenses and fixed charges, which in many instances they had already failed to do as shown in our tables. As the freight traffic grew lighter and lighter the companies began to run fewer freight trains and to reduce their passenger train mileage by taking off accommodation trains and doing more work with through and mixed trains.

There was a decrease in train mileage on the following named roads:

Showing a total decrease of 143.672 miles in passenger trains and 16.422 miles in freight trains and an increase of 38.813 miles in the mixed trains, and a total decrease in the train mileage of the State of 85.909 miles for the year ending June 30th, 1893.

This showing was before the greatest depression was felt, and since then the train service has been reduced to the lowest possible standard, which of course has affected all of the other branches to a similar extent, as less rolling stock is used, fewer repairs needed, and men employed in all the shops and other departments have been reduced in number.

The Commission has determined that the passenger train service must be kept up to a standard that will furnish ample accommodations for the public; but on some of the branch lines and short roads that are being operated at a loss, it would be unjust to demand other than a mixed daily train.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION.

Two acts passed by the last General Assembly were of so much importance that we deemed it proper to call them to the special attention of railroad managers. The frequency of accidents to passenger and freight trains resulting in loss of life, personal injury, and damage to property was the inducing cause for the passage of these acts. Our annual reports are sent to the railroad managers, and are kept by them for future reference. For their instruction and benefit we again reproduce them in this report, in the hope that having the law constantly before them, they may not subject themselves to the penalties imposed therein.

AN ACT

“To repeal an act approved February 28, 1887, entitled an act for the protection of the traveling public against accidents caused by color-blindness and defective vision.”

“SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama, That an act entitled an act for the protection of the traveling public against accidents caused by color-blindness and defective vision, approved February 28, 1887, be and the same is hereby repealed.”

Approved December 10, 1892.

AN ACT

“To better provide for competent men in the transportation service on railroads in this State.”

SECTION 1. Be enacted by the General Assembly of Alabama, That hereafter it shall be the duty of every person or corporation operating a railroad in this State, before engaging any person or persons in their service as engineer, fireman, train dispatcher, conductor, flagman, brakeman, trackman, or switchman, to subject the applicant for employment in such service to a thorough and rigid examination, to ascertain if the applicant for such employment be competent and well qualified to fill the position applied for. Such examination shall be made by the Superintendent, or by some competent and skillful official or officials of the railroad, selected for such purpose by the Superintendent.

THE RAILROAD CONDITIONS AS SHOWN IN THEIR ANNUAL RETURNS.

We give tabulated statements exhibiting fairly well the general conditions of the railroads in the State. It will be seen, that the year as to some of the railroads has been a disastrous one, and as to those reporting net earnings, the amounts made are very small and with but few exceptions, it has been a struggle to operate them so as to prevent insolvency.

Those paying fixed charges with any profit are exceptional. The last years business was conducted under serious disadvantages as to the railroad companies. With small earnings, and little or no profit, the managers have been compelled to keep up a good supply of rolling stock, and to maintain the road-beds and tracks in fair condition. It would be the want of ordinary care which is tantamount to gross negligence not to do this, and failing in this respect they would be subjected to harrassing law suits for damages for loss of life and injury to persons and property.

The following tables show the year's work and its results:

THE DEATH OF GENERAL JAMES T. HOLTZCLAW, ASSOCIATE RAILROAD COMMISSIONER.

It becomes our painful duty in the conclusion of this report, to advert to the death of our distinguished Associate Commissioner, General James T. Holtzclaw. His career as a railroad commissioner was short, but his ability, capacity and high sense of duty had impressed us with the great value of his services to the State and to the Commission. We have felt deeply the loss of his counsel and advice in the work of the board, and we have annexed hereto copy of the action taken by the Commission at its first session after his death.

HENRY R. SHORTER,
President.

W. C. TUNSTALL,
Associate Comm'er.

EXTRACT FROM THE MINUTES.

OFFICE OF RAILROAD COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF ALABAMA,
MONTGOMERY, ALA., August 8th, 1893.

General James T. Holtzclaw was on the 21st day of February, 1893, appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate to the office of Associate Railroad Commissioner. He immediately qualified and entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office with an energy and capacity giving promise of great future usefulness to the State.

On the 29th day of April following, in the city of Atlanta, Ga., he was suddenly prostrated, and from which place he was removed to his home in the city of Montgomery, where, after a lingering illness, he departed this life on the 18th day of July, 1893. His high integrity of character and great ability peculiarly fitted him for the public service; while his genial disposition and happy manners made pleasant his business and social contact with his Associate Commissioners.

Now be it resolved by the Railroad Commissioners of the State of Alabama :

First, That in the death of General James T. Holtzclaw the State has lost a valuable official, the city of Montgomery a distinguished citizen, and the Railroad Commission an able and useful member.

Second, That we tender the family of the deceased our deep sympathy in their great bereavement.

Third, That the Secretary of this board shall record these proceedings in the minutes of the Commission, make a memorial page therein, and transmit a copy to the family of the deceased.

HENRY R. SHORTER,
President.

W. C. TUNSTALL,
WILLIS G. CLARK,
Associate Commissioners.

*During current year amount charged cost of property for additions and improvements during year ending June 30, 1892, has been transferred to debit of income account and amount charged income account for interest on General mortgage bonds for year ending June 30, 1892, has been transferred to debit of profit and loss account. These entries were made for the purpose of determining amount standing to income account after providing for operating expenses, interest on mortgages of 1879 and 1883, and rental of St. Louis & Cairo R. R., and expenditures made for addition and improvements, this residue being subject to a dividend lien of the preferred income and sinking fund debentures, all but a fragment of which has been exchanged either for general mortgage bonds or have been purchased by the company for account of the sinking fund including the entire first series. As long as our debenture is outstanding it will be necessary to adjust the income account for each year upon the date specified in the debenture deed of trust, upon the basis stipulated therein, that the legal rights of each outstanding debenture may be strictly observed; although, as a matter of fact, the entire dividend upon the debentures, except upon fragment outstanding, returns to the company through either the trustees of general mortgage or trustee of sinking fund, leaving the interest upon the general mortgage the real charge against income account.

+ Principal of car trust payments during the year covered by equipment.
